DETAILED ACTION

This action is responsive to applicant's Request for Continued Examination (RCE) and amendment filed October 3, 2005. The amendment is deemed to have overcome the rejection set forth in the Final Office Action mailed June 2, 2005; therefore the rejection is withdrawn. However, a new ground for rejection is set forth below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dall et al (US Patent 5,665,089). See figure 8, element 38 is considered a fastener to hold the rigid plate 81, 82.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dall et al in view of Attenborough (US Patent 3,807,394). The patent to Attenborough suggests passing a fastener through bone plates using nut and screw. It would have been obvious to pass Dall et al fastener through bone plate and securing it with a nut.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8-14, 16-18 and 20-35 are allowable over the art of record.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered and are persuasive.

Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Dall et al and Attenborough.
